The Sandwich Islands

Miércoles, 18 de Enero de 2023.

Mientras reposaba y oraba en mi cama en las horas de la madrugada, estando ya fuera de mi cuerpo físico me vi y escuché pronunciando las siguientes palabras:

“LA GLORIA DE DIOS LA SHEJINAH”
“POETICAL SANDWICH ISLANDS”...

Investigando ahora veo con gran asombro que “Sandwich Islands” es el nombre que su “descubridor” el Capitán “James Cook” le diera a las Islas de Hawai...

“We were agreeably surprised to find them [Hawaiians] of the same Nation as the people of Otahiete [Tahiti] and the other [south sea] islands we had lately visited ... These ... Islands ... I named [the] Sandwich Islands, in honor of the Earl of Sandwich. How shall we account for this Nation spreading themselves so far over this Vast ocean?” (From The Explorations of Captain James Cook in the Pacific, 1771, Gross, Jeffrey L.. Waipi’O Valley: A Polynesian Journey from Eden to Eden (p. 204). Xlibris US. Kindle Edition.)

“Islands named after Sandwich by Capt. James Cook”

“... Lord Sandwich [John Montagu, 4th Earl of Sandwich] was a great supporter of Captain James Cook. As First Lord of the Admiralty, Sandwich approved Admiralty funds for the purchase and fit-out of the Resolution, Adventure and Discovery for Cook's second and third expeditions of exploration in the Pacific Ocean. He also arranged an audience with the King, which was an unusual privilege for a lower ranking officer.^[33] In honour of Sandwich, Cook named the Sandwich Islands (Hawaii) after him, as well as Montague Island off the south east coast of Australia, the South Sandwich Islands in the Southern Atlantic Ocean and Montague Island in the Gulf of Alaska.^[34] Hinchinbrook Island was named for the House owned by the Montagu family. Lord Sandwich donated the various items given him by Cook to Trinity College at the University of Cambridge. [...] He also met the young Ra'iatean Omai, whom Cook had brought to Europe, and took him to his country estate for a week, presenting him with a suit of armour...” (From “Wikipedia”).

Aloha El Hálito de Dios La Sagrada Shekinah

Volviendo a los significados de las palabras: “LA GLORIA DE DIOS LA SHEJINAH” relacionada con Las Islas de Hawai o “Sandwich Islands”, como escribí antes, en un significado se refiere a las Diosas de la Danza Sagrada del Hula, y del Fuego: Laka, Pele y Hi‘iaka.

“Shekináh” (Shejináh) que significa “La Presencia Femenina de Dios”, es una palabra de origen Hebreo (en estos momentos, 13:48 hs, está Cantando Fuertemente y muy Bellamente Nuestra Sagrada “Ave del Paraíso”...), se corresponde con las palabras “The Breath of God”, “El Aliento de Dios”, “El Hálito de Dios”, uno de los significados de la Palabra Hawaiana “ALOHA”:

“... The direct translation from Hawaiian to English is the presence of divine breath. The Hawaiian word alo is presence, front and face, and ha is breath.”

(Nuestra Sagrada Vecita del Paraíso continúa Cantando muy Bella y Alegrementemente: 14:00 hs).

“LA GLORIA DE DIOS, LA SHEJINÁH relacionada con Las Islas de Hawai o “Sandwich Islands”...”, es también “ALOHA”: “la Presencia del Divino Aliento”...

“... to the Hawaiian of old, Aloha meant “God in us.”...”

“ALOHA” or “ELOHA” is an Ancient Word of Hebrew Origin, formed by the Hebrew Letters “El-Vav-Hei”. “EL” is CHOCHMAH (The Cosmic Christ), “VAV” is “ZEIR ANPIN” The Male Human Soul, The “Bridegroom,” The Spiritual “Husband,” “HEI” is THE NUKVA, The Female Spiritual Soul, the “Bride,” the Spiritual “Wife.” (V.M. Thoth-Moisés)

“Another tradition states that the name Aloha is separable into, AL, V and H, Al designating the light of wisdom, V [Vav] the male principle [Zeir Anpin] and H [Hei] the female principle [Malkhut, The Queen, The Nukvah], and their totality form Aloha.” (The Zohar).

“... we have learned further... that the name Eloha (El- Vav-Hei) is interpreted as follows: El is the Light of Chochmah, Vav is the male, and Hei is the female. Male and the female are attached together and are called BY ONE NAME, Eloha. So the holy soul clings to this place, and everything depends on the sign of the COVENANT [True Chastity]. Hence, the words, "from my flesh shall i see Eloha," REFERRING TO THE NAME ELOHA, represent overall/ total completion...” (The Zohar).

“Pure souls are protected by the garment that is spread on them, which is the name Eloha. We hear that the souls of the beloved enter into the chamber of love...” (The Zohar, or “Splendor”).

“LA GLORIA DE DIOS LA SHEJINÁH” en las Poéticas, Bellas y Sagradas ISLAS DE HAWAI ES “ALOHA”.

"The Breath Of God"

“At the time of the creation of the world, God’s Throne of Glory stood in space, hovering over the surface of the waters like a dove over its nest, suspended by means of the breath of the mouth of God, as it is said, and a wind from God sweeping over the water (Gen. 1:2). Four gatherings of angels sang praises before Him, and the waters rose up and touched His throne. And God himself sat at the center on his lofty and exalted throne, elevated and suspended in the air, and his gaze encompassed the entire world.”

“The Hebrew term for “the spirit of God” is “Ruah Elohim,” which also means “the breath of God.” The image of God sitting on his lofty and exalted throne is borrowed from Isaiah 6:1 and is repeated in Daniel 7:9. See “Isaiah’s Vision,” p. 3.” (“Sources: Rashi on Gen. 1:2; Pirkei de-Rabbi Eliezer 4; Midrash Tehillim 93:5.”)

“258. The verse continues: "And breathed into his nostrils the breath of life" (Ibid.). This is FROM the upper Shechinah, WHICH IS CALLED Eden AND repentance. Of him, it is written: "The Tree of Life also in the midst of the garden," which is the lower Shechinah. And there were three bonds CONNECTED TO HIM, Neshamah, Ruach and Nefesh. NESHAMAH EXTENDED TO HIM FROM THE UPPER SHECHINAH, RUACH EXTENDED TO HIM FROM ZEIR ANPIN OF ATZILUT AND NEFESH EXTENDED FROM THE GARDEN, WHICH IS THE LOWER SHECHINAH, ALSO CALLED MALCHUT.

With them, NESHAMAH, RUACH AND NEFESH, "man became a living soul (Heb. Nefesh)." It was from His mouth indeed that he was named after the Shechinah, which is the "breath (Heb. Neshamah) of life." IT IS AS IF HE BREATHED WITH HIS OWN MOUTH INTO THE MOUTH OF ADAM, FOR THE BREATH OF LIFE IS THE LIGHT OF THE SUPERNAL SHECHINAH. Immediately after completing these words, he rose and disappeared. Rabbi Shimon said: My friends, he surely must have been an angel. In any case, we surely have confirmations.”

“191. Come and behold. The world was formed by word and spirit together, MALE AND FEMALE, as it is written: "By the word of Hashem were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath (spirit) of His mouth" (Tehilim 33:6). Thus, "the word of Hashem" is speech, THE NUKVA, WHICH SHINES WITH CHOCHMAH, and "the breath of His mouth" is the spirit, ZEIR ANPIN, WHICH SHINES WITH CHASSADIM. The one cannot exist without the other, and so they are included within each other, and several armies upon armies, legions upon legions were issued all at once, DIFFERING FROM EACH OTHER IN THEIR ILLUMINATION, THE ONE WITH CHOCHMAH AND THE OTHER WITH CHASSADIM.”

“18. Rabbi Yehuda asked: If this is true, why is it written, "all in whose nostrils was the breath (Lit. 'the Neshamanh') of life..." (Beresheet 7:22)? IF THOSE WHO ATTAIN NESHAMAH ARE THE LOVERS OF THE HOLY ONE, BLESSED BE HE, WHY DID THEY DIE DURING THE FLOOD? He replied: Surely THEY LOVED THE HOLY ONE, BLESSED BE HE. From all those in whom there was a holy Neshamah, none-- such as Chanoch or Yered, or the other righteous Ones--remained to protect the earth so it would not be destroyed in their merit. This is the meaning of, "all in whose nostrils was the breath (lit. 'Neshamah') of life, of all that was on the dry land, died"--they all had already died and departed from the world, and no one remained then to protect the world."

“12. If he gains further merit, he is given a Nefesh of the path of Atzilut, from the part of the only daughter called the King's daughter, NAMELY MALCHUT OF ATZILUT. If he is more meritorious, he is given Ruach of Atzilut from the side of the Central Pillar THAT IS ZEIR ANPIN and he is called a child of the Holy One, blessed be He. That is the meaning of, "You are the children of Hashem your Elohim" (Devarim 14:1). If he has more merit he is given a Neshamah from the aspect of Aba and Ima, WHICH ARE BINAH, as written, "and breathed into his nostrils the breath (lit. 'NESHAMAH') of life" (Beresheet 2:7). What is life? It is Yah, WHICH ARE ABA AND IMA, of whom it says, "Let everything that has breath (lit. 'NESHAMAH') praise Yah (Yud Hei)" (Tehilim 150:6). With them, the name of Yud Hei Vav Hei is completed. FOR RUACH AND NEFESH OF ATZILUT ARE VAV HEI AND NESHAMAH OF ATZILUT IS YUD HEI, THUS FORMING TOGETHER YUD HEI VAV HEI.”

“52. HE ASKS: If so, what is the purpose of the person's nose? WHY DID THE HOLY ONE, BLESSED BE HE, MAKE IT? HE RESPONDS: "And breathed into his nostrils the breath of life" (Beresheet 2:7). This is the form over the person, of which is said: "And he dreamed, and behold a ladder" (Ibid. 28:12). A ladder is assuredly the breath of life, WHICH IS MALCHUT, the throne to the Name - Yud Hei Vav Hei - which is awe, love, Torah and the precepts, SINCE AWE AND LOVE ARE YUD HEI AND TORAH AND THE PRECEPTS ARE VAV Hei. In it, IN THE BREATH (SOUL) OF LIFE, dwells THE NAME OF YUD HEI VAV HEI and that is the throne, THE LADDER, from which all the souls of Yisrael are hewn. That is the form over the person's head."

"Aloha – The Breath of Life"

“In Hawaiian mythology, wind heralded Lono, the god of storm and rain and hence of fertility. Like Ezekiel and Job, the Pacific peoples have known that God often speaks from the whirlwind. Theirs is a faith shaped by "aloha," a word drawn from two roots, meaning "in the presence of wind, breath or spirit." In Hawai'i, to speak of God means necessarily to be open to the often disturbing and life-giving wind of the spirit.”

Kamehameha The King of the Sandwich Islands - Hawai'i

De acuerdo a antiguas Tradiciones de Hawai, cuando el Rey Kamehameha I nació hubo acontecimientos y señales que anunciaban el Nacimiento de un Gran Rey que llegaría a ser el Libertador y Unificador de los Pueblos Nativos de las Islas del Archipiélago de Hawai, llamado por su “descubridor” el Capitan James Cook “Sandwich Islands”.

Durante su nacimiento se desató una intensa tormenta con vientos muy fuertes, lluvias torrenciales y potentísimos Truenos...

En el año de su nacimiento, el año de 1758 de Nuestra Era Cristiana, apareció en el cielo el Cometa Halley, que fue visto al día siguiente de la noche de la Navidad, el 25 de Diciembre. Al año siguiente el 13 de Marzo el Cometa Halley llegó a su Perihelio o en su máximo acercamiento al Sol...

En la Astronomía y Astrología de la India Milenaria, el Cometa Halley es llamado “Dhumra Ketu” y “Dhuma Ketu”, el Cometa del Dios de la Sabiduría y del Conocimiento, GANESHA, el Dios Cabeza de Elefante que es idéntico con el Dios Egipcio Hermes o THOTH. La Cabeza de Elefante es simbólica de Su Gran Sabiduría e Inteligencia...

Gran parte de lo que se narra del Nacimiento del Niño y futuro Rey de las Islas de Hawai, Kamehameha I, de los peligros al nacer, de las persecuciones del “Herodes” de aquellos tiempos, de la protección que le dio un Venerable Anciano “Kahuna”, huyendo con él a los montes, atravesando ríos y valles profundos, cuidándolo hasta su crecimiento, etc., tiene mucho en común con las Antiguas Tradiciones Hebreas del Nacimiento del “Niño” Moisés...

“Halley's comet at the Birth of Kamehameha I”

“A great warrior, diplomat and leader, King Kamehameha I united the Hawaiian Islands into one royal kingdom in 1810 after years of conflict. Kamehameha I was destined for greatness from birth. Hawaiian legend prophesized that a light in the sky with feathers like a bird would signal the birth of a great chief. Historians believe Kamehameha was born in 1758, the year Halley’s comet passed over Hawai‘i.”

“Given the birth name Pai‘ea, the future king was hidden from warring clans in secluded Waipi‘o Valley after birth. After the death threat passed, Pai‘ea came out of hiding and was renamed Kamehameha (The Lonely One). Kamehameha was trained as a warrior and his legendary strength was proven when he overturned the Naha Stone, which reportedly weighed between 2.5 and 3.5 tons. You can still see the Naha Stone today in Hilo.”

“Birth: Halley's Comet: Pai‘ea”

“Traditional mele chants indicate that Kamehameha was born in the winter months of 1758 during the year of Halley’s Comet.”

“Hawaiian prophecy said a light in the sky would signal the birth of a great chief and a child would one day conquer the islands.”

“Kamehameha: The Lonely One”

“Originally named Pai‘ea or hard-shelled crab, Kamehameha was hidden throughout his adolescent years to prevent assassination, living in isolation along the Hāmākua coast of Hawai‘i.”

“His uncle Kalani‘opu‘u trained him as a warrior.”

“woman and child safely lie by the roadside.”

“During a battle in Puna, Kamehameha encountered several civilians on the beach.”

“When he finally came out of hiding, he was renamed Kamehameha, The Lonely One.”

“First named Paiea, meaning “Hard-Shelled Crab,” the future sovereign was the son of Keoua, a high chief, and of Kekuiapoiwa, a daughter of the former king Alapai. A Hawaiian tradition tells that a bright star, Kokoiki, appeared just before the great conqueror was born. The date of the legend coincides with the appearance of Halley’s Comet in 1758. When Kokoiki was viewed by the kahunas, Hawaii’s mystic seers, it was prophesied that a great leader was about to be born who would defeat all his rivals and reign supreme over all the islands. The infant prince was ordered to be put to death by Alapai but was reared secretly and grew to manhood, taking the name Kamehameha, meaning “The Very Lonely One” or “The One Set Apart.”...”

“Edmond Halley, in his 1705 'Synopsis of the Astronomy of Comets', used Newton's Laws to calculate the effects of the gravitational pull of Jupiter and Saturn of cometary bodies. He calculated that the comet of 1682 was the same as those observed by Petrus Apianus in 1531 and Johannes Kepler in 1607, returning every 76 years. Halley correctly predicted its return for 1758, although it was not spotted until 25 December 1758, and did not pass through its perihelion until 13 March 1759 on account of the aforementioned gravitational pull.”

“Edmond Halley, en su "Sinopsis de la astronomía de los cometas" de 1705, utilizó las leyes de Newton para calcular los efectos de la atracción gravitatoria de Júpiter y Saturno sobre los cuerpos cometarios. Calculó que el cometa de 1682 era igual a los observados por Petrus Apianus en 1531 y Johannes Kepler en 1607, que regresaban cada 76 años. Halley predijo correctamente su regreso para 1758, aunque no fue avistado hasta el 25 de diciembre de 1758, y no pasó por su perihelio hasta el 13 de marzo de 1759 a causa de la mencionada atracción gravitatoria.”

“Kamehameha was born during the reign of Alapa‘inui in Kokoiki, Kohala. The exact date of his birth is the subject of debate. The most commonly accepted date is 1758 because of the appearance of Haley’s comet, thought to be the comet that coincided with his birth...”

“... Kokoiki near the heiau of Mo‘okini, North Kohala, is one of six or seven places in that region pointed out to Donald Walker as the birthplace of Kamehameha. Kokoiki (Little-blood) is one of the star names listed in the Kumupilo chant ... an article on Hawaiian astronomy ... note[s] .. that a bright star [a comet] ... appeared at Kokoiki on the night before Kamehameha was born and is hence called Kokoiki.”

“... plotting the position of Halley’s Comet as it appeared December 1, 1758, finds that it corresponds ... with the description ... of Kokoiki.”

“... Prophecies predicted that the chief who was born under a comet would grow to kill the King. Because of the fear that Alapa‘inui would kill the young chief, on the night of his birth Kamehameha’s mother was in flight. He was born at Kokoiki, Kohala. Keku‘iapoiva was captured by Alapa‘i’s soldiers but allowed to sleep the night under guard. A chief of Kohala, Nae’ole, rescued Kamehameha by pulling him out through a hole in the wall of the house and escaping through the Kohala mountains. According to Kamakau:”

“a certain stranger was outside the house listening, and when he heard the sound of the last bearing down, he lifted the thatch at the side of the house and made a hole above. As soon as the child was born ... he covered the child in tapa and carried it away. When the chiefs awoke they were puzzled at the disappearance of the child. Kohala was searched that day and the houses burned. The man who took the child [Kamehameha] away was Nae'ole, the chief of Kohala.”

“... Nae'ole was Iwikuamo'o, protector of the genealogy of Keku'iapoiwa and kahu (guardian) of the infant Kamehameha. Nae'ole hid Kamehameha and took him on a long journey through Kohala, where the Kohala people protected him. Thus, Kamehameha was raised in secrecy in the Kohala mountains, and Alapa'i gave the order to have him killed.”

“... Kamehameha Publishing (the successor to Kamehameha Schools Press) published the book Kohala Kuamo'o: Nae'ole's Race to Save a King. A video version of the book is below:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ccU-QF9j0_I&t=1s

“King Kamehameha was one of the most striking figures in Hawaiian history, a leader who united and ruled the islands during a time of great cultural change. Accounts vary, but many think that Kamehameha (originally named Pai'ea) was born into a royal family in North Kohala sometime between 1753 and 1761, possibly in November 1758. Kamehameha's mother was Kekuiapoiwa, daughter of a Kona chief. His father was probably Keoua, chief of Kohala. Legends link his birth to storms and strange lights, activities thought by Hawaiians to herald the birth of a great chief. Because of prognostications at his birth and threats from warring clans, Kamehameha was taken away and hidden immediately after his birth. He spent his early years secluded in Waipio, returning to Kailua at the age of five. He lived there with his parents until his father's death, then continued to receive special training from King Kalani'opu'u, his uncle. This training included skills in games, warfare, oral history, navigation, religious ceremonies, and other information necessary to become an ali'i-'ai-moku (a district chief).”

"El Cometa Verde"

“Un cometa de color verde brillante recientemente descubierto se podrá ver en el cielo por primera vez en 50.000 años durante el mes de enero y principios de febrero.”

“Según la NASA, el cometa será visible con binoculares para los observadores del hemisferio norte durante la mayor parte de enero y para los del hemisferio sur a principios de febrero.”

“Los habitantes del hemisferio norte podrán verlo con prismáticos como un pequeño resplandor verde a partir del jueves.”

“Esto quiere decir que en países como México se podrá observar ya esta semana, especialmente el 21 de enero, cuando habrá luna nueva. Mientras, en el resto de América Latina habrá que esperar a principios de febrero.”

“Las Tablillas de Lhasa descubiertas por Chuward nos hablan de tres cataclimos sufridos por la Tierra, uno datado hace 50.000 años, otro hace 26.000 años y el más próximo hace 8.000 años...”

“LEMURIAN PARADISE”

“According to author James Churchward, MU was about 5,000 miles long and 3,000 miles wide, a beautiful tropical paradise like the Garden of Eden. He claims there were 64 million people who died in the sinking, and that it dated back over 50,000 years. The Pacific Islands are the remaining mountain peaks of the lost continent. Precise detailed maps of the lost continent of Mu and Atlantis were found on stone tablets from Pre-Inca Ica, Peru, by Dr. Javier Cabrera, engraved in stone and photographed by Robbert Charroux.”

“United Nations diplomat Farida Iskoviet, assistant to United Nations President Adam Malik, came to Maui in 1972 and researched Lemurian ruins and history and concluded that they were real.”

“One of Hawaii 's leading authorities on Lemurian research was Sgt. Williard Wannall from Army Intelligence in Oahu . He reported that ruins of a submerged Lemurian city was between Maui and Oahu . It was a Top Secret project in Naval Intelligence in 1972.”

Grandes Almas de Hermanos
Indígenas Rojos se han
Reencarnado en estos tiempos en
Cuerpos de Hermanos Blancos

En el Libro en Inglés: “THE LORD GOD OF TRUTH WITHIN”, by “M”, su Autor (un Venerable y Gran Maestro de la Logia Blanca), nos transmite las palabras de “una gran alma, un nativo Indígena rojo” que nos revelan que ellos, las Almas de Indígenas Rojos “están re-encarnando en el tiempo presente” “en la raza blanca, y algún día recuperaremos lo que hemos perdido; pero mantenemos nuestro conocimiento en secreto hasta el momento en que la naturaleza nos lo pida...”

“We are privileged to know a great soul, a native red Indian, who has a knowledge of nature's laws and remedies which science today would probably decry. He is a man who can do things which doctors are at present unable to accomplish. He once said to me, "If the white man had the graciousness of heart to approach the red Indian rightly, he might be given assistance which would prove of great benefit to his race. In the early days we were given missionaries and whiskey, and were driven out of our lands by the greed of the white man, but we are re-incarnating at this present time into the white race, and some day we shall regain that which we have lost—but we hold our knowledge secret until the time nature shall call it forth.”

Es posible también que una Gran Alma pueda, al mismo tiempo, simultáneamente, estar Re-encarnada en distintos cuerpos y en diferentes lugares.

“... no sólo un Buddha, un Shankarackárya o un Jesús pueden animar a un mismo tiempo el cuerpo de varios hombres, sino que el visible tabernáculo del vulgo de los mortales puede estar animado por los principios superiores de un elevado adepto.”

“Un cierto rayo (principio) de Sanat Kumára espiritualizó (animó) a Pradyumna, hijo de Krishna, durante el período del Mahábhárata, mientras que al propio tiempo el mismo Sanat Kumára instruía espiritualmente al rey Dhritaráshttra. Además, conviene recordar que Sanat Kumára goza de perpetua juventud y, como “un eterno joven de diez y seis años”, mora en Jana Loka, la peculiar esfera de su estado espiritual” (H.P. Blavatsky, “La Doctrina Secreta, Volumen VI).

“EL MISTERIO DE LAS ALMAS GEMELAS es extraordinario, y esto viene a ponerlo de relieve CE ACATL (el GEMELO DE QUETZALCÓATL).”

“(En cuanto al Salvador Gemelo, es incuestionable que “Ce- Acatl” es el gemelo de Quetzalcóatl, el Cristo mexicano.)”

“(“Ce- Acatl” se incinera en la hoguera, se sacrifica por Quetzalcóatl.) (“Ce- Acatl” es otra parte del ser de Quetzalcóatl reencarnado en otro cuerpo.)”

“(Así el adepto cristificado vive en distintos tiempos y lugares simultáneamente, tiene su gemelo.)” (V.M. Samael Aun Weor).
